

My Major Marriage Mistake

*She's getting married, she's getting married
She's getting married, she's getting married
She's getting married, she's getting married
To someone who she barely knows!*

*She's getting married, she's getting married
She's getting married, she's getting married
She's getting married, she's getting married
She's getting married, she's getting married
She's getting married, she's getting married
She's getting married to someone she barely knows!*

*That's the problem that we all face
What to do when we're all here in the race
We never have enough information
To help us through each new situation
There comes a time, you need to act
Hoping it all works out fine
Rushing in without thinking
Hoping you don't end up sinking*

*He's getting married, he's getting married
He's getting married, he's getting married
He's getting married, he's getting married
To that girl who you used to know*

*He's getting married, he's getting married
He's getting married, he's getting married
He's getting married, he's getting married*

He's getting married, boy that must be a blow!

*I don't know, it just all seems Impossible. Like living another man's dreams
Is there anyone else in my situation
Going through all my capitulation?
What have I done wrong?
The pain's too much, and I don't want to go on Seeing another man with her
It should be me and I'm bitter*

*I could try to delay the wedding
And you can dress up, then try and get in
Make a big entry from up above
Go down to her and declare your love!*

*I've nothing to lose, I might as well try it
One last roll, I hope they all buy it
Yes I could break in and show her my case
Persuading her before I hold her in my embrace!*

*I hope everything's ready?
You know my time is precious!*

*Now son you know you have to work
To make sure these things turn out right
You can't just spend you silly berk
And hope it sorts itself out on the night!*

*I am getting married
To someone you barely know
I am getting married*

To someone you hated at school
I am getting married
You're my international stars
Finally, she's my perfect bride!

She's getting married
I don't know one person here
She's getting married
I can't get to her from here
She's getting married
We want to be her so much
Tell the world that I am in love!

Do you take this woman for the rest of your life?
Do you take this man for the rest of your life?
Now I can pronounce you husband and wife

Mistake! Mistake! Which way now do you go?
Mistake! Mistake! Which way now do you go?
Mistake! Mistake!! Mistake!!!
